Promises Of Guidance From The Book Of Proverbs

By Zac Poonen

Proverbs 3:5 - "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him and He will make your paths straight."

This is a promise of guidance. God will direct our paths if we fulfill the conditions. What are the conditions?

First of all: Trust in the Lord with all your heart and don't lean on your own reason and intelligence. It doesn't say there that we should not use our reason or intelligence, but not to depend on it. God created our powers of reasoning and our intelligence. But like God created Eve to be subject to Adam, reason must be subject to the Holy Spirit. A wife is most useful in a home. But if she takes over the headship of the home, there will be chaos - as when Eve took over the headship in Eden and sinned. We have to use our reason (and intelligence) to find God's will, for it is a very capable "wife". Without our intelligence we would not be able to study God's Word or even live in this world. But we must depend on the Holy Spirit to enlighten our reason. Faith is not contrary to reason but is beyond reason - just like multiplication is not against addition but is beyond addition.

Secondly: Acknowledge God in all your ways. That means to obey every single thing that God reveals to you. Give the Lord first place in every area of your life. Then the Lord will lead you in His perfect will.

As I look back over the past years, I am amazed to see how the Lord has led me - step by step. Many a time, I never knew what the next step would be. But the Lord has directed my paths. I pray that you will have the same joy as you look back on your life.
